

As you listen to the various Supreme Court presentations you must fill in the form below. This is for a grade.

Marbury v. Madison:

1. What was the constitutional issue the issue before the Court?
2. What was the decision of the Court?
3. How did this decision affect the United States either politically or economically? How has this case been used as a precedent?
4. Was the ruling is consistent with the original intent of the framers of the Constitution? Explain your reasons using the Constitution in your answer. Also, remember your USA Yesterday.
5. Based on your answer above, was the decision based on a “loose” or “strict” interpretation of the Constitution. Explain.
6. Some of these cases created famous taglines, if this one did, please write it below.

Fletcher v. Peck:

1. What was the constitutional issue the issue before the Court?
2. What was the decision of the Court?
3. How did this decision affect the United States either politically or economically? How has this case been used as a precedent?
4. Was the ruling is consistent with the original intent of the framers of the Constitution? Explain your reasons using the Constitution in your answer. Also, remember your USA Yesterday.
5. Based on your answer above, was the decision based on a “loose” or “strict” interpretation of the Constitution. Explain.
6. Some of these cases created famous taglines, if this one did, please write it below.

Mcculloch v. Maryland:

1. What was the constitutional issue the issue before the Court?
2. What was the decision of the Court?
3. How did this decision affect the United States either politically or economically? How has this case been used as a precedent?
4. Was the ruling is consistent with the original intent of the framers of the Constitution? Explain your reasons using the Constitution in your answer. Also, remember your USA Yesterday.
5. Based on your answer above, was the decision based on a "loose" or "strict" interpretation of the Constitution. Explain.
6. Some of these cases created famous taglines, if this one did, please write it below.

Worchester v. Georgia:

1. What was the constitutional issue the issue before the Court?
2. What was the decision of the Court?
3. How did this decision affect the United States either politically or economically? How has this case been used as a precedent?
4. Was the ruling is consistent with the original intent of the framers of the Constitution? Explain your reasons using the Constitution in your answer. Also, remember your USA Yesterday.
5. Based on your answer above, was the decision based on a "loose" or "strict" interpretation of the Constitution. Explain.
6. Some of these cases created famous taglines, if this one did, please write it below.

Dartmouth v. Woodward:

1. What was the constitutional issue the issue before the Court?
2. What was the decision of the Court?
3. How did this decision affect the United States either politically or economically? How has this case been used as a precedent?
4. Was the ruling is consistent with the original intent of the framers of the Constitution? Explain your reasons using the Constitution in your answer. Also, remember your USA Yesterday.
5. Based on your answer above, was the decision based on -a “loose” or “strict” interpretation of the Constitution. Explain.
6. Some of these cases created famous taglines, if this one did, please write it below.

Gibbons v. Ogden:

1. What was the constitutional issue the issue before the Court?
2. What was the decision of the Court?
3. How did this decision affect the United States either politically or economically? How has this case been used as a precedent?
4. Was the ruling is consistent with the original intent of the framers of the Constitution? Explain your reasons using the Constitution in your answer. Also, remember your USA Yesterday.
5. Based on your answer above, was the decision based on a “loose” or “strict” interpretation of the Constitution. Explain.
6. Some of these cases created famous taglines, if this one did, please write it below.